BLAMES VOTERS IF GOVERNMENT MISREPRESENTS

Columbus Attorney Urges
People To Wipe Out
Minority Rule

BRICKER SPEAKS
AT KIWANIS CLUB

Kiwanians Will Entertain Ladies At Dinner At Winona, April 26

Responsibility for poor government was placed on the voters by John W. Bricker of Columbus, who spoke before the Kiwanis club at noon Thursday at the Memorial building on the subject, "The Trend of Government."

Bricker, candidate for attorney general on the Republican ticket, cited as examples the administration in Chicago and Illinois where,
he said, men unfit for high offices were elected because the better element remained away from the voting booths. However, he added, the people of that state have cleaned up the situation in the election this week.

President H. L. McCarthy opened the meeting with the announcement that the Kiwanians will entertain their ladies at a dinner meeting at the Winona Methodist church Thursday evening, April 26. He then turned the meeting over to H. M. Huffman, who introduced the speaker.

Minority Rule

Attorney Bricker referred to minority rule which persists in local and state governments, and urged the people not to neglect their duty as voters so that officials would be responsible to the will of the majority.
In part he said:

"The capacity to gather new data and to acquire knowledge has been greater in this generation than the ability to use that data and turn that knowledge to the betterment of social conditions. Likewise, since the war, experiments in government have been piled up so fast and changes have been so rapid that it is difficult to ascertain whether or not the knowledge of government and the experiences of this generation in public affairs have been utilized to the benefit of the greatest number of people.

"Our experience proves that we cannot legislate morality or character, at least, that the sermon on the mount can not be codified and yet all manner of things have been attempted by legislation.

"In the past, congress, approximately one hundred efforts were made to amend the federal constitution;
thousands of bills were introduced and hundreds passed. Add to this the hundreds of thousands enacted by the state legislatures, ordinances by municipal councils and orders and legislation issued out of every commission and board in our administrative capacity and we can appreciate why the public generally has a confused notion of law and why we are confronted with a disrespect for law in some quarters, and numerous violations.

"In the past fifty years there has

CHARGES AL HAS BIG SLUSH FUND

Washington, April 13.—The organization supporting the presidential candidacy of Gov. Al Smith of New York is using the "largest and most corrupt slush fund in the history of the world" to secure his nomination by the Democrats, Senator Thomas J. Heflin (D) of Alabama, charged today on the floor of the senate.

Heflin called on Senator Borah
(R) of Idaho, to re-introduce his resolution for the investigation of expenditures in presidential primary campaigns. Heflin accused the Smith organization of using a "huge slush fund" to buy the Iowa and Oklahoma delegations to the next Democratic convention. This was immediately denied by Senator Steak (D) of Iowa, but Heflin declared Steak did not know what had gone on in his senate.

Dayton, April 13.—An estimated loss of $200,000 was suffered by the Frampton Electrical company when fire destroyed its plant here early today.

The company occupied the buildings of the old Globe Foundry company and fire started in the boiler room. Three rats of oil exploded, scattering sheets of flame on other parts of the building and on the ad-

JUDGE TO RULE ON LOAN STORY IN TEAPOT CASE

Halts Sinclair Trial As He Gives Study To Use of Evidence

Washington, April 13.—The Sinclair oil conspiracy trial came to a temporary halt this morning to enable Justice Jennings Bailey to spend a week end wrestling with the first real complex problem to come before him for ruling.

The efforts of the prosecution to lay before the jury the story of Harry F. Sinclair's final financial transaction with former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall, and the further story of Fall's $100,000
"loan" from E. L. Doheny, forced the temporary adjournment.

Bailey announced he would make a final ruling on Monday, but he indicated he was inclined to exclude the desired evidence.

Total of $304,100 Passed Prosecutor Roberts already has shown the jury that a total of $304,- 100 in Liberty bonds passed from Sinclair to Fall during the spring of 1922 when the oil man acquired title to the Teapot Dome naval oil reserves. This morning, he tried to show that a final $35,000 was given Fall in the summer of 1923 for a trip to Russia.

During the course of the argument, which took place with the jury out of court, Roberts also indicated his intention of calling E. L.
Doheny, Jr., to tell of his father's dealings with Fall in securing a lease on the Elk Hills oil reserve and the defense lawyers announced they thought this, too, was irrelevant.

Preliminary to the taking of testimony today, Prosecutor Atlee Ferguson read a deposition by former Atty. Gen. Harry M. Daugherty.
In it, he denied was made that Fall had ever asked for or been given an opinion on the legality of the Teapot Dome lease.

Nolle Prosequi Indictment Washington, April 13.—Special government Attorney Owen J.
Rorberts today announced that the indictment against E. L. Doheny, Jr., growing out of his father's lease of the Elk Hills naval reserve
from former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall, had been nolle prosequi.

The bribery indictment against Doheny Sr., and Fall still stands.
Young Doheny carried the famous "little black satchel" containing $100,000 from his father to the former cabinet official.

Young Doheny is now enroute to Washington to testify in the criminal conspiracy trial of Harry F.
Sinclair.

LIFE STORY OF LUTHER TOLD BY REV. CLARKE

Interesting Pictures Are Used In First Lecture
In Baptist Series

The first of a series of five lectures was given last night at the First Baptist church.

The title was "Luther and the Reformation," and with the aid of interesting pictures the life story of Martin Luther was told by Rev. Arthur M. Clarke.

Mr. Clarke gave a glimpse of the parentage, birth and early home of the reformer; his first day at school and the various places where he received his education; his first glance at the Bible; his vow to become a monk and his entry into the Augustinian convent; ordination, and conflicts of soul and his first view of Rome.

The crisis in his life came, said
Rev. Clarke, when Tetzel sold in-

Sales Forces And Merchants Gather For 'Shop Talk', Fun

Hear Address by L. H. Buisch, Dayton Expert; Enjoy Banquet, Dance, Play Cards
At Better Business Bureau Party

"Shop talk" and fun mingled Thursday night when sales forces of Salem stores were guests of merchants at probably the most outstanding get-together party of its kind held here in recent years, at the Memorial building.

More than 300 persons, including merchants, salespeople and their friends, enjoyed a banquet, heard a program of music, listened to an absorbing talk on merchandising and advertising by L. H. Buisch, of Dayton, and whiled away the balance of the evening with cards and dancing, the latter to the strains of Finley's Melody band, which also played during the banquet.

The affair was staged in a beautiful setting which reflected the carnival spirit. Decorations of balloons of varied colors, and favors of colored hats enhanced this spirit of fun and fellowship, and on the party was shed the glow of colored lights.

EVANS DENIES FLOGGING; HAS PARADE EXCUSE

Klan Imperial Wizard On Stand At Pittsburgh
Has His Alibis

Pittsburgh, April 13.—The Ku Klux Klan's $500,000 damage suit against five banished Pennsylvania members in federal court here entered its closing stages shortly before noon today when the Klan re-stated its case and closing arguments were begun by Van A. Barriekman, counsel for the banished group.

Hiram A. Evans, imperial wizard of the Klan, testified that the head of "a patriotic organization, military in form," he never made anti-Catholic speeches, nor inspired the riot at Carnegie, Pa., several years ago in which one man lost his life.

Pittsburgh, April 13.—Hiram Wesley Evans, of Atlanta, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, took the stand in federal court here today as a witness for the Klan in its $500,000 damage suit against five banished Pennsylvania members.

Evans' appearance came as a distinct surprise move on the part of J. H. Connaughton, of Washington, chief of Klan counsel, since the Klan had ignored demands by Van
A. Barriekman, counsel for the banished Klansmen, that Evans be produced to answer charges that he was responsible for the Carnegie,
Pa., riots, and conspired to murder
D. C. Stephenson, former Indiana
Klan leader.

Evans emphatically denied charges
by Charles D. Ludlow, of Dallas, Tex., that Evans was in

FORMER RESIDENTS OF COUNTY HEAR RIDDLE

Cleveland Society Has
Its Annual Banquet
Thursday Night

Cleveland, April 13.—The annual dinner of the Columbiana County society of Cleveland, was held in the auditorium dining room at Masonic temple last night. Dinner was served to 273 people, but later there were over 300 people in the hall.

Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, of Lisbon, was the principal speaker.
Atty. Frederick L. Hole, formerly of Salem, called upon M. Z. Zimmerman, Lisbon correspondent for the Salem News, to tell the crowd about new happenings in their old home county.

It was determined at this meeting that the annual summer picnics at Euclid Beach park would be eliminated and that the annual gathering would be in the form of an informal dinner, held during the closed season and probably early each spring.

Judge Riddle spoke interestingly for about one half hour in a historical vein and called attention to those from Columbiana county who had achieved fame in various endeavors.

Officers for the ensuing year are all Clevelanders, formerly of this county. They are:

President, Atty. J. A. Elden (East Liverpool); vice president, Isaac Dunlap (Leetonia); secretary, Mrs.
Fred Timmons (East Liverpool); assistant secretary, Miss Jessie Bell (Leetonia); treasurer, Mrs. Clyde T.
Kirkbride (Salineville).

Mrs. Timmons was chairman of the meeting and she introduced Atty. Hole, the toastmaster.

There were 58 people at the Salineville table and at the Wellsville
table there were 56.

BREMEN NOW IS OVERDUE IN NEW YORK

Flood of Unconfirmed Reports Are Received
All Morning From Canadian Cities As Big Crowd Waits Bremen At Field

New York, April 13.—After a flurry of unconfirmed reports that the German trans-Atlantic plane Bremen had been sighted at several points in Nova Scotia, this afternoon found the plane still missing and overdue, according to calculations made by Chief Pilot Herman Koehl before he hopped off at Bal-danel androme, Dublin, at 12:38 o'clock yesterday morning, eastern standard time.

Koehl had planned to reach the American coast line this morning.
At 1:30 this afternoon nearly 37 hours had elapsed since the Bremen hopped off for Mitchell field.

It was reported from Kingsport,
Nova Scotia, that Capt. Barkhouse, of the Canadian steamer Aras, had sighted a plane he believed to be the Bremen at 9 o'clock, E. S. T., but the Canadian government department of marine at Ottawa, Ont., announced this afternoon that no
confirmation of the Barkhouse report had been received.

Montreal, April 13.—Reports that a plane believed to be the Bremen has been sighted flying toward New York have been received here from several Nova Scotian villages.

From Annapolis, Kingsport, Yarmouth, and from points along the Bay of Fundy information was received that a large plane resembling the Bremen had been seen flying very high.

No Reports Confirmed
About the same time reports were circulated that a plane believed to be the Bremen had been sighted over Yarmouth and Annapolis, Nova Scotia, but these proved to be unconfirmed rumors.

A great crowd of nearly 3,000 people began gathering at Mitchell field during the morning to await the arrival of the German-irish airmen. Numerous reports were received at the field from time to time, rousing the enthusiastic hope of the watchers that the

ARE YOU LENIENT?

You like to have people definite in their dealings with you.

If they say they are going to do something, you want them to do it.

You want to have something upon which to depend, in home or business matters—and who does not?

But when it comes to your case, it is so easy to forget and so much easier to excuse yourself for it.

Do you ever carry out an order or a commission and remember each detail, to have it exactly right?

When you shop you have to have a memorandum and then you cannot keep your eye following step by step to carry it out.

They skip from one thing to another and finally think of something quite foreign to the task in hand and the time is gone and your list incomplete.

It is a most exasperating habit you have of being indefinite.

Perhaps you don't date your letters.

"Tuesday," or "Home" or "After Office Hours," does not mean anything when it comes to dating a letter.

But when you want something badly enough yourself, isn't it different?

THINKING

"America," declares Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of The Nation, "has lost the art of political thinking. The average American business man knows no more of politics than to believe that liberalism, left wing socialism, bolshevism, communism and anarchy are one and the same thing."

That is true to a great extent. A great many Americans lump all these special political groups indiscriminately, call the mass "Red" and proceed to regard it as a menace to America. It wouldn't be necessary to study textbooks on all these subjects to discover differences between them. A good dictionary would reward the seeker after knowledge with an intelligent and understandable explanation of the terms.

The sad thing about this lost art of political thinking isn't at all the loss itself. It makes for an unfair judgment of any particular political group or idea. It is the fact that it is a careless thinking on other subjects than politics. A further sad fact is that haziness of understanding opens the door to ready-made prejudices and fears which clear understanding is the result of clear thinking—sound disposal.

There may be more danger in the ignorant hounding of all political beliefs different from one's own as bad than there would be from the correct and straightforward teaching of the principles of each.

NOVELIST-SOLON

Apparently the political cleanup in Indianapolis has been put under way, as Meredith Nicholson, distinguished author, has been elected to a seat in the city council made vacant by the resignation of a man indicted in the corruption cases under investigation. The selection of a man like Meredith Nicholson to a public office in any city at any time has a real importance. He is one of the outstanding literary figures in Indiana, a fine character, a man of genius and ability, who can become a public servant of real worth. Probably his election means that the good people of Indianapolis have decided to draft men from the first ranks, the drafted men or reputation being expected to take up official duties as a matter of state pride and city spirit. The real purpose is to place government in clean and competent hands.

It remains to be seen to what degree these business and professional men will be able to adjust themselves to their new duties. Helping direct matters in the city of Indianapolis is a big task, calls for clear judgment and will require a generous amount of time. Sometimes the big business or professional man has been a failure in politics, but the opportunity for service in Indianapolis is so pressing that Mr. Nicholson can win new fame for himself if he takes up the task seriously and sticks to it.

To the rest of the nation the course adopted by Indianapolis is inspiring and delightful. Draft the best men, insist they shall give service, make government in that city respectable once more and intelligent, and note the substantial growth of the larger interests of the city with government of that sort.

What Others Say

CAUSE OF PROGRESS

The Enquirer rather often takes sharp issue with Dr. S. Parkes Cadman respecting certain of his theories and public pronouncements, but gives unqualified endorsement to his Palm Sunday pronouncement that all world progress has been made in the Christian era.

Before the dawn of Christianity the world experienced no general and constructive progress; with its inception all that was worth while—and there was much—in the pagan life and formulas began to realize an absorption in the new revelations proposed by Christ.

Said Dr. Cadman, the civilization we enjoy and which too many condemn beyond reason, was ushered in by a carpenter at Nazareth, and hailed by the little children who sang on that memorable first Palm Sunday.

And this is true. From that day the world began to move forward, and immediately following the Resurrection it looked out upon life with a hope unknown to the peoples who had preceded them through ages of cruelty, lust and hopelessness.

The old pagan philosophy folded its wings at the side of the tomb. Christ taught that at the tomb the real life began. Hence there was something worth living for, life took on a sweetness and dignity that inspired men to strive worthily. Says Dr. Cadman:

"Nor has this celestial movement started its beneficent march. Take out of the United States what is discernible here because Jesus lived, loved, taught and died, and because our citizens have willingly surrendered themselves to His control, and what have you left of cleansing consequence for our country or our age? Think of the benevolent and humane influences which have saturated our customs, laws and institutions. Challenged by this Master of Palm Sunday, powerful states once prone to license outrage and persecution have exterminated these evils and attained civic freedom and integrity."

Centuries at the Rome of even Severus, Titus or Marcus Aurelius with the England and America of today. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

REVOLT IN WISCONSIN

The gradual disintegration of the La Follette dictatorship in Wisconsin continues. The recent primaries show the realm of the departed dictator pretty well rent in twain. Almost half of the Wisconsin delegation has been recaptured by the Republicans, including two of the four delegates at large. The shift of one more district would have taken the majority from the "Progressives."

Thus, when Wisconsin is reached on the roll call at Kansas City, there will be at least 12 votes out of the 26 for real Republican candidates and measures. Whereas in the last two national conventions Wisconsin was almost unanimously played by itself under orders from the dictator.

When Julius Caesar fell, his power was at first exercised by a triumvirate, but the three masters of the world soon fell to quarrelling over which should be the Caesar. When La Follette died, three of his lieutenants attempted to carry on. One of them was soon eliminated, while the other two divided the senatorial honors between them. Both ran in the presidential primary, and both were elected delegates at large. But their two delegates were beaten, and the election of the Badger state showed a growing distaste for La Folletteism.

Doubtless young Robert La Follette expects to be the Augustus Caesar of Wisconsin, and to rule over the realm his father ruled so long, without being obliged to consult with Blaine. Maybe he will. But history may not carry the parallel so far. The results of the primary indicate a strong desire in Wisconsin to return to the Republican fold and to cut loose from all the La Follette family, including Robert H. Nearly half his realm has revolted.—Minneapolis Journal.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble.

SATURDAY, APRIL 14.

If one would control fate it must be by knowledge of what to expect and when.

—Llewellyn George.

A particularly lively and interesting day, but one not notable for large issues, is forecast by the sidereal activities. Their very interesting configurations will react on all business, professional and personal affairs, all of which should be prosperous and pleasant. It is an auspicious time for new contracts and understandings in business, employment and socially and personally.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a very lively and happy year with all the affairs engaging lively attention and thriving. Social, artistic and professional affiliations should predominate over the more social.

A child born on this day will have many splendid talents and grace of figure. It is for the mother and finer activities of life, where its success lies.

NO SERIOUS EFFECTS FROM SHAKING PALSY

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland, M. D., United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

A lady has written me twice, she says, asking for an article on "Parkinson's disease." I beg pardon for overlooking the first letter—apparently it went astray. Anyhow I hasten to comply with this request. The common name for this ailment is "shaking palsy." The doctors call it "paralysis agitans."

The chief symptom is the rhythmic, regular, trembling of certain muscles. There may be nodding of the head, or shaking of the hands. The tremor never stops after it becomes established. In the beginning it may be controlled by effort of will.

Shaking palsy is rarely met before the age of 40. It attacks men more frequently than women. It is almost never seen in persons under 40.

Hard manual work, fear, anxiety, shock to the nervous system from any cause, are the chief causes. It sometimes follows an injury.

Before the marked symptoms of Parkinson's disease are noted, there may be signs of a disturbed nervous system. A person heretofore, good-natured and calm, may become cross and irritable.

There is often an inability to sleep. For hours the sufferer lies awake, tossing about the bed. A third symptom which may be observed before the trembling and shaking are noticed, is weakness of the arms and legs.

It is not uncommon to have a peculiar motion of the fingers. The thumb rests against the forefinger and there is a restlessness of thumb and finger with a motion as if the thumb were reaching a pull between them.

But the trouble does not stop here. The tremors travel up the arm and perhaps involve the leg on the same side. It is not long before the limbs on the other side take on the movements.

As the palsy progresses, the head is bowed and the body bent. The elbows are bent and stand out from the body.

As the victim attempts to walk his movements become a rapid trot. There is difficulty in stopping after once getting in motion.

The face muscles grow stiff. After a while the expression is fixed like a mask.

At first the speech is slow and monotonous in tone. Later it is hurried.

Unfortunately the disease rarely proves fatal. It runs a chronic course and some acute illness is responsible for serious results.

I have described shaking palsy more for the sake of general information than for any other purpose. Treatment is far from satisfactory, but after all this is not a thing to lament. Since there is very likely to be no serious effect, the only thing to mourn over is the embarrassing tremor. The family and friends learn to disregard this symptom and the afflicted one forgets it.

The simple rules of hygiene, plain food, fresh air, sunlight and the other practices everybody should follow, are the important things to remember by the person troubled with Parkinson's disease.

HEBERDING COW BREAKS RECORD

Jersey Producing Mark Is Set At Canfield; Other Farm News

A new senior three-year-old 365-day record for Ohio has been made by the purebred Jersey, Sophie's P's, Gustav's Tagalong, a young producer in the herd of Mrs. Florence Heberding, of Canfield.

Tagalong has already proved her ability to make outstanding records in a previous test started when she was two years and five months of age, in which she won a silver medal by producing 485.11 pounds of butterfat and 9.81 pounds of milk.

In this latest official production test started when she was three years and seven months of age she yielded 582.28 pound of butterfat and 10.302 pounds of milk.

Her milk averaged 5.65 per cent butterfat for the ten months, and in her best month her yield reached 77.24 pounds of butterfat. She was with calf 217 days of the test, qualifying for the American Jersey Cattle club silver medal.

With this excellent record, she surpasses Ohio's Lady Blue Belle of H. S. F., which has a record of 576.30 pounds of butterfat and 9.810 pounds of milk. The sire of this new state champion is Sophie's Premier's Climax, a silver medal bull and her dam is Sophie's Premier's Gustav, a cow which has a record of 700.8 pounds of butterfat and 13.681 pounds of milk.

Walker Coming
J. F. Walker, secretary of the Ohio Wool Growers' Co-operative association, will speak at two meetings to be held at Millport and Lisbon on Wednesday, April 25.

The Lisbon meeting will be held at 8 p. m. in the city hall. Mr. Walker will discuss co-operative marketing of wool and other phases of the wool business. He has recently returned from several months' observation in Australia and other countries for the U. S. department of agriculture, and will undoubtedly have a most interesting talk.

At 1:30 p. m. he will lead a wool judging and grading contest for club boys on the L. G. McCarns farm near Millport. The wool exhibits and afternoon meeting are sponsored by the Franklin Township Sheep club, but all sheep growers are invited to attend.

Plans are nearing completion for the series of livestock meetings which are to be held in various parts of the county this month.

The first meeting will be held April 18, in the Fairfield centralized school house. The meeting will convene at 8 p. m. Other meetings scheduled are: Lisbon, city hall, April 19; Salem, Salona Supply company, April 21; North Georgetown, church, April 23; Unity Grange hall, April 24; Damascus, Graham Township High school, April 26; and East Rochester, April 28.

Two reels of pictures showing each step in the marketing of livestock will be a part of the program. This feature especially will be very interesting and every member of the family is cordially invited to attend.

It is expected that L. C. Breidenbach will attend some of the meetings. Service Manager Howard is arranging to show by charts each step in marketing shipments and will explain the various charges connected with a consignment of stock.

TURNER GIVES RULINGS FOR HOME WATER

Columbus, April 13.—Council of a municipal corporation which owns and operates a water works may provide for free water for the use of a county children's home located outside the city limits.

This ruling was given today by Attorney General Edward C. Turner to officials of the state bureau of inspection and supervision of public offices.

A board of trustees of a school district free public library has no authority to pay its secretary or treasurer Turner ruled.

Turner also held that county notes issued in anticipation of the issuance of bonds, and not called by reason of the inability of the county to sell the bonds, so anticipated, may not be retired by the use of money in the sinking fund except that such moneys in such fund as have realized from assessment for the improvement in question, or from a tax levy made for the retirement of such bonds, may be utilized for that purpose.

EASTERN OHIO WHEAT CROP SHOWS PROMISE

But Wheat Over Balance Of State Is In Very Poor Condition

Columbus, April 13.—Winter wheat and rye planted by Ohio farmers last fall suffered heavy material damage from the past unfavorable winter and they are in the lowest condition at this time of the season that they have been in the last 40 years, according to G. S. Ray, of the United States Department of Agriculture here.

Over two million acres of wheat were planted last fall, Ray said. Though this figure looks promising in itself it was pointed out by Ray that the abandonment of winter wheat crops in Ohio will be very heavy in the late spring.

Dividing the state into three areas, the western, central and eastern, Ray declared that the winter wheat is extremely poor in the western section, only slightly better in the central area, but promising in the eastern section.

In the plains states, which grow the bulk of the hard winter wheat, the condition of crops is reported about average, but in the Ohio valley states where most of the soft winter wheat is grown, the reports confirm the earlier indications of extremely low conditions and heavy abandonment.

In Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Kentucky the condition of crops is the lowest reported since 1879.

The average United States condition of soft winter wheat such as is grown in Ohio is about 55 per cent, compared with a ten-year average of 82 per cent, Ray stated.

Discussing the winter rye crop Ray said that it is in the poorest condition ever recorded.

Ray refused to say what result these poor conditions would have on the prices of the Ohio wheat and rye market.

FARM AID BILL IS HEADED FOR COOLIDGE DESK

House Expected to Place Stamp of Approval On McNary Measure

Washington, April 12.—The battle-scarred McNary-Haugen farm bill, headed straight for President Coolidge's desk notwithstanding the warning signals hoisted against it by the White House.

Its passage in the senate by the surprising vote of 53 to 23 was accomplished under the adroit leadership of Vice President Charles C. Dawes, ably assisted by those who do not want to see Herbert Hoover nominated for president.

It now goes to the house, where its passage is also considered assured. Its sponsors hope to have it reported on the White House doorstep by May 1.

Veto Might Stand
"I do not think it will take us long to reach a decision," said Rep. Taugen (R) of Iowa, co-author of the bill.

That a veto awaits it at the White House is universally accepted in Washington. The president vetoed the bill a year ago, denouncing it as few presidents have ever denounced any legislation. Since that time numerous changes have been made in it to meet presidential objection, but the equalization fee, of which Mr. Coolidge particularly disapproved, remains in it.

It is questionable whether the measure can be passed over a presidential veto. The senate vote indicated that it can be, but with the full membership of the senate present and voting it might be a different story. Also while the bill is assured of passage in the house by a substantial majority, it is doubtful whether two-thirds of the full membership could be mustered for veto but.

The Coolidge veto is calculated to be embarrassing to the Hoover candidacy.

Hoover Disapproves
Hoover disapproved the bill a year ago, along with Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. The presumption is that he, like Mr. Coolidge, also disapproves this year's bill for in his announcement of candidacy the cabinet candidate pledged himself to the continuance of Coolidge policies.

On the other hand, his two chief rivals for the nomination, Vice President Dawes and Frank O. Lowden, wholeheartedly approve the measure.

A presidential veto, therefore, is not calculated to increase Hoover's standing in the west grain-belt, which already is the weakest spot in his political armor.

Today Secretary of Agriculture Jardine came to Hoover's aid with a letter denying whispered charges that he ever sought to "interfere" with the functions of his department.

OHIO BAR EXAM FRAUDS HEARD

Supreme Court Begins Consideration Of Contempt Charges

Columbus, O., April 13.—The Ohio supreme court today began consideration of charges of contempt of court filed by Attorney General Edward C. Turner against 12 persons accused of improper conduct in connection with the state bar examinations.

As court opened attorneys representing the various accused argued that their clients could not be charged with contempt of court because none of those named in the alleged conspiracy was an officer of the supreme court. The court was asked to annul the charges.

Assistant Attorney General Joseph Godown argued, in reply, that Ohio laws and regulations of the supreme court justified the charges of contempt in every case. Godown then cited various court decisions in support of his contention.

The supreme court then recessed for a few minutes while the question was taken under consideration. At the resumption of the session it was announced that the contention of counsel for the accused had been overruled and the hearing was ordered to proceed.

The state then called Ralph W. E. Miller to the witness stand. Miller, in his testimony, went into exhaustive detail concerning his various alleged "deals" with the accused to change their grades and permit them to pass the bar examination. His testimony related chiefly to the accusation that John B. Canfield, of Cleveland, was involved in the alleged conspiracy.

The body showed three bullet wounds.

Bomb Is Joke Cleveland, April 13.—A "bomb" planted on the porch of the home of Harry Brooks, head of a local investment service here, proved harmless, when taken apart by detectives at police headquarters today.

"Jinx Day" Is Lucky, Birger, Slayer Thinks

Benton, Ill., April 13.—Friday, the 13th, the day when Charley Birger, leader of the most desperate gang in the criminal history of Illinois, was to have walked up 13 steps to a scaffold and be hanged, proved utterly impotent as a jinx when the courts today granted a last minute stay of execution until next Tuesday.

Attorneys for Birger late last night filed an insanity petition, invoking that section of Illinois criminal law which prohibits the dealing of capital punishment to those of unsound mind.

A jury to decide on Birger's sanity is to be assembled next Monday morning.

Slayer Given Reprieve Chester, Ill., April 13.—Friday the 13th held no bad omens for Joseph Bella, convicted slayer of Mrs. Julia Fisherty, for he will not die today.

Gives Parade Alibi "No such occurrence as the flagging told of by Ludlow ever took place in any Klan in the United States," Evans said.

"Did you ever participate yourself in any flagging?" Connaughton asked. Barrickman's objection was sustained by Judge W. H. S. Thomson. "Did you preside at any time when the question of flagging or 'operating on' negroes was discussed on the floor of a Klan meeting?" Evans said he attended a meeting at Carnegie, Pa., and spoke there.

The question of the parade came up, he said, and when it was discovered no permit had been obtained he advised against it.

"I stated that under the law as American citizens they had the right to parade but it was unwise to do so. Just then I heard a motorcycle come up and the chief of police said we might parade if unmasked. I then said 'all right, go ahead, but go unmasked and unarmed.' (One Klansman was killed in the ensuing riot in this parade.)"

Produces Document Judge W. H. S. Thomson limited the opposing counsel to 45 minutes each for their closing argument.

Evans was confronted with a member of the Black Robed order in full regalia shortly after he stepped from the stand. Evans had denied that this organization was a branch of the Klan, but Will G. Seemiller of Philadelphia, who donned the robes, produced a document purporting to be authorization from Paul Winters, of Philadelphia, to reorganize what he termed a "Black Robed gang" in that city.

This organization, which was to be under the auspices and a part of the Klan he said, was to "operate in a direct manner."

damage to the store's good name, the speaker warned.
Mr. Buisch urged that every store owner make his business justify its existence through better trade gained by a plan carefully laid out a full year ahead. Setting a quota of business for every year, every month and every week was advocated.
In emphasizing co-operation between the merchant and his employee, Mr. Buisch stated "that you can't kick and pull at the same time."
Should Give Service
The speaker urged the clerks to look upon their work as a profession, the same as a doctor, dentist, lawyer, etc. He suggested too, that they reconsecrate their lives to their "high calling." "Only until we take a serious view of our calling can we expect the reward to which we are entitled," he said.
Mr. Buisch is of the opinion that success only comes through hard work. He told the salespeople to spend some time at the close of the day in the study of their work if they would make the most out of it.
"Strive to build an institution and render a service to your fellow men, rather than just to pile up the money," the speaker pointed out.
He pointed out the importance of the salespeople being well informed about the business, that they be legal, honest, courteous and use tact.

SPEAKER URGES AMENDMENTS TO FLOOD MEASURE

Longworth In Effort To Shape Bill So That Coolidge Approves

Washington, April 13.—Speaker Nicholas Longworth of the house today entered the flood control fight in an effort to forestall a presidential veto and the adjournment of congress without providing against new disasters in the Mississippi valley.
Calling Republican leaders of the house and spokesmen for both factions on flood control into conference, Longworth urged consideration of amendments designed to bring about a compromise.
President Coolidge according to house leaders, has decided to veto the Flood-Jones bill unless it is amended.
Longworth condemned the measure in its present form, which is estimated to cost eventually from $750,000,000 to $1,000,000,000.
The administration amendments include:
Giving the presidential dictatorial control to prevent excessive expenditures.
Requiring states or local districts to provide floodways, estimated to cost from $90,000,000 up.
Requiring railroads to assume part of cost of relocating lines if benefited by the flood control works.
Local maintenance of flood ways.
Readjustment of principle of local contributions, with provisions for waiving contributions in lower Mississippi valley if districts are virtually bankrupt.

Crowds at Field

Mitchell Field, N. Y., 13.—Eager to witness what they anticipate will be the epochal arrival here today of the German monoplane Bremen with its crew of German and Irish flyers, a great crowd assembled at Mitchell field this morning and hopefully scanned the skies for a big silver airplane that holds the aspirations of two nations.

In the throng were Dr. Gustav Heuser, acting German consul general of New York and Eugene Kleck, consul in New York in charge of aeronautics, who, with Grover Whalen of Mayor Walker's reception committee, planned to be among the first to greet Captain Herman Koeck, Commandant James C. Fitzmaurice and Baron Ehrenfried Von Ruenfeldt, if the three airmen are successful in their projected hop from Ireland to New York.

Differ as to Meaning of Name "Guatemala"

The country of Guatemala, which has a population of about 3,000,000, is one of the Central American republics with an area of 4,290 square miles. Except in the marshy forests near the northeastern coast, the country is mountainous. Some of the mountains attain an elevation of 11,500 feet.
The most important cultivated products are coffee, sugar, tobacco, cacao, bananas and indigo. Much rubber also is obtained.
The name of the country is believed of Aztec origin and is said by some authorities to mean "Land of the Eagle," or "Land of the Forest." Other experts say it should be interpreted as meaning "mountain vomiting water."
Guatemala City, the capital of the republic, with an estimated population of about 200,000, is situated in a rich and spacious plain.
The country was conquered by the Spaniards in 1522.

Italian's Origin Shown by Method of Eating

The way of eating Parmesan cheese tells the place of origin of an Italian, according to a generally accepted theory. Not only that, but it indicates also his broadmindedness or stinginess in money matters, it is claimed.
If a person pares the covering of his cheese without regard to losing a little of the cheese itself, as a wasteful cook might peel potatoes in New England, that person comes from Rome, one who cares little for money.
However, if the person scrapes the cheese carefully, so as not to waste any of the inside portion, he is a Florentine, careful but not prodigal.
But if the person takes up his cheese in his fingers and merely blows whatever will blow from the outside of the cheese, then he comes from Genoa, never wasting a centesimi, according to the proverb.

Nativity of Corn

Corn, generally believed to have originated in South America, has been found growing in China; but the Chinese corn is of a unique species and it is of a native of the Chinese region in which it was discovered. Researches show that it must have been brought to China long before the voyage of Columbus, for it could not have acquired its distinctive character in the comparatively short time that has elapsed since that period.
Chinese corn is a dwarf plant and its starch is quite different from that of American corn. The leaves grow on either side of the stalk so as to protect it from the hot, dry winds of the desert. They form a sort of horn for the accommodation of pollen.
Chinese corn is excellent for planting in hot countries where common corn does not flourish.

Steamship Screws

A phenomenon known as "cavitation" is recognized as one of the most important causes of loss of efficiency in the driving screws of steamships. When the velocity of the screw is increased above a certain limit a cavity is formed in the water inside which the screw rotates and a further increase in power then causes no increase in the ship's speed. Mathematical investigation, tested by practical experience, has shown that cavitation can be avoided by preserving a certain ratio between the resistance and the propelling surface concerned. Upon this principle the speed of some ships has been greatly increased by simply changing their driving screws.

Gave It Away

Press agents do not always train their clients wisely. There is, for instance, the now sorry lady who showed the interviewer a pair of silver candlesticks. "They were given to my great-grandmother by King — of Germany," she explained. "They are very old and valuable, all hand-carved, and have been preserved by my family through generations."

So the interviewer handled one tenderly, and just naturally turned to the mark beneath which would testify to their ancient ancestry. "Shedfield Plate, Birmingham, England, 1902," was the precious inscription. — Los Angeles Times.

Difficult Language

City the Finnish school boy! There are many strange things about Finland, and the strangest is the language. It properly is called either "Finn-Ulgrie" or "Ulgro-Finnic," is Asiatic in nature and incomprehensible except to Finns or specialists. And the specialists aver that it is probably the most difficult language in the world. For instance, a noun declines into 15 different cases! That is, every noun has 15 different forms other than those of gender and number. The cases are as follows: Nominative, partitive, genitive, inessive, elative, adessive, ablative, illative, allative, abessive, prolativ, translative, essive, comitative and instructive.

On Being "Nice"

Being nice to people requires a virtue not unlike that which impels a hero to surrender his pine, in a lifeboat to some one else. Unfortunately enough, the instant it becomes a pleasure to be nice to some one you discover that they have no need of your being nice to them. People to whom it is necessary to be nice never seem altogether conscious of their position. Which provokes the awful thought that, in the eyes of others, you yourself may be one of them without knowing it.—Exchange.

A Boston firm has been awarded the contract to build a paved highway throughout the entire length of Cuba, a distance of 750 miles. The contract price is in excess of $75,000,000.

As Red as Her Lips

"Lipstick red" is the color of the satin crepe frock worn by Anita Page, screen beauty, and trimmed with a fringe skirt in self color, the whole matched by a fringed scarf. Smart for afternoon wear? Well, rather!

BATTLESHIP IS BEING SALAGED AT SCAPA FLOW

German Warship Seydlitz Providing New Record For Such Work

Edinburgh, Scotland, April 13.—The German battleship Seydlitz, sunk with the rest of the German fleet at Scapa Flow, is providing an opportunity for a world record in salvage work.

All the other 29 battleships burned right over as they sank and lay keel up. The Seydlitz had not depth enough to turn over and settled on her side.

Big ships have been raised hitherto to either deck up or keel up. But to lift the Seydlitz right over and float her either keel up or deck up would cost about $300,000—which would make it impossible to show a profit on the operation.

The firm of Cox and Danks, who have already salvaged the 26 destroyers of the German fleet, as well as the battleship Moltke, therefore decided to float the Seydlitz on her side and tow her in that position to their breaking-up depot six miles off.

Being Towed In

Work on this novel operation was started last July. Mr. Cox states that they hope to have the Seydlitz afloat and towed in by June after practically twelve months work.

"The Seydlitz," he says, "is 93 feet wide, 556 feet long and weighs 25,000 tons. She is lying on about 20 feet of water. The way we work is to pump compressed air into the port of the ship which is out of the sea. The air escapes by numerous openings and holes, and we have to fill these up with concrete one at a time, always getting further down below the water line.

"The biggest opening we have filled in measured 44 feet by six, and it took two tons of concrete. We have stopped on the operation now over three-quarters of the length of the ship. There were 40 holes in the bottom apart from the numerous structural openings in the deck.

Begins to Rise

"This week we have begun to see the result of our work and one day the stern rose six feet. When we have stepped up the holes in the remaining quarter we shall then pump the whole ship full of compressed air and, if all goes well, tow her with two tugs to our depot.

"Altogether we have spent so far more than $1,250,000 on the salvage of the German fleet. After we have done the Seydlitz then we shall have another try at the Hindenburg which beat us at our first attempt. Then we shall go on to the other battleships, but the raising of the whole fleet will probably be more than a life's work for most of us now engaged in it."

Bootlegger's Helper New Vocation

Youngstown, April 13.—A new vocation has come to light during the cleanup raids now in progress by Vice Squad Chief Metcalfe and his squad.

It was learned during the registering of prisoners on the police blotter by Desk Sergeant Quintan.

"What's your occupation?" demanded the sergeant.

"I'm a bootlegger's mechanic," replied a dejected prisoner. "I install the traps for them, you know."

TRICKS OF THE SILVER SHEET EXPOSED

Girls if you want to make good in the movies, you'll have to be as good as Janet Gaynor in displaying your emotions. She, of all the young stars, is particularly adept in the art. She gives you a lesson here in the five principal expressions.

FIVE BIG LONDON HOSPITALS BAN WOMEN MEDICS

Only Two Institutions Left For Study By Women Students

London, April 13.—Five of London's great teaching hospitals have just banned the entry of women medical students. In the future, women will only be able to qualify in London at two hospitals entirely women-staffed.

The reasons given are three—and these are hotly controverted by women in all ranks of life. They are: Women do not take part in hospital athletics.

Women students disturb and embarrass men students.

Women do not make good doctors and do not follow up the profession, the time spent on training them being wasted.

The controversy has reached that point of acuteness where abuse is being freely used on both sides. But now Dr. Graham Little, Member of Parliament for the University of London and famous physician has taken up the cudgels for women doctors from another viewpoint.

"Their medical education," he explains, "makes them ideal companions for the intellectual man, husband and wife can share the peak of knowledge hand in hand, each being an experienced clinician."

"The medical woman's knowledge makes her specially fit to undertake the bearing and rearing of the child which the most typical of mid-Victorian poets said was woman's wisdom."

"It has been said that many women fail to make a living by medicine or drop out of the struggle for qualification."

"Comparison with men students will probably show that there is no disproportionate number of women who are thus affected as compared with men, of course exception being made of the special conditions of marriage which commonly results in the woman relinquishing her profession, and not the man.

Become Successful

"When medical women meet to remain unmarried, and it is for the most part an election, they have little difficulty in having work to do."

"The emoluments which may be confidently anticipated by the women in medicine, compare most favorably with the rewards they may look for in any other walk of life. There are vast new fields of practice to be filled by women who are specially adapted, for example, to antenatal and maternity work."

"Whether the men like it or not, I believe the women have come to stay and I personally bid them the heartiest of welcomes."

R. C. A. PLANNING HUGE NETWORK FOR BUSINESS

Applies For Permission
To Operate System
Covering Nation

Washington, April 12.—Another step in the government's plan of distribution of short wave lengths to commercial and private radio operators, developed today when the Radio Corporation of America applied to the Federal Radio Commission for licenses to operate 65 high frequency transmitters throughout the country.

The Radio Corporation, according to the application, proposes to establish a wireless communication system which virtually will parallel the wire lines of the country, giving all large cities direct radio communication with United States and foreign countries.

Similar proposals have been made by the Postal Telegraph company, the Inter-City Radio Telegraph Co. of Cleveland and the Universal Wireless Communications, Inc. of New York.

The commission announced that it had taken on any of the applications but that they would be considered in connection with other short wave licenses.

Central stations will be located at New York, San Francisco, Chicago and New Orleans, with subsidiary stations in 24 other cities, provided the commission grants the licenses.

National Network
The corporation plans to utilize some of the high frequency frequencies within the United States. About 29 frequencies will be so shared. It is proposed to use 118 frequencies for exclusive national use, 67 of which will be below and 51 above 6000 kilocycles.

Under the plan the New York transmitter will communicate with San Francisco, New Orleans, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Buffalo, Portland, Me., Rochester, Washington, Boston, Schenectady and Philadelphia.

The Chicago transmitter will communicate to San Francisco, Denver, New Orleans, New York, Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Cleveland, Detroit, Cincinnati and Milwaukee.

From San Francisco communication will be established with New York, Chicago, Denver, Seattle, Los Angeles, while New Orleans will communicate with New York, Chicago, Memphis, Dallas and Houston.

Other stations will be set up, and the plan to complete the National Radio network.

COLUMBIANA

Pandora Lodge, I. O. O. F., will observe next Tuesday night, April 17, as Anniversary and Veterans' night. An effort is being made to have present at this meeting all members, especially those who have belonged 25 years or more, as these will be presented with a Veterans' button. The affair will begin with a dinner served in the lodge rooms at 6:30 by the ladies of Pandora Lodge, while the main part of the program will be held in the High school auditorium. In addition to the other lodges in this district there will be present Grand Master Summers of Toledo, Deputy Grand Master J. A. Gledhill of Warren and District Deputy James Elliott of Sebring.

Columbiana, for the first time in many months, was visited by burglars Wednesday night, when some person or persons broke into the F. E. Foster barber shop and stole all the razors, scissors and other barber tools. The entrance was made through a rear door by cutting away a piece of the door and unlatching it. Previously an attempt had been made to enter by the front door, as an auger had been used in two places around the lock but without penetrating very deeply into the wood. The robbers evidently feared detection by people living nearby and figured the rear door would be less under observation. Mr. Foster was compelled to go to Youngstown Thursday morning to lay in a stock of tools before being able to open again for business.

Mrs. Dent Graham proved a most charming hostess Wednesday evening when she entertained members of the Entre Nous club at her home on Vine st. Three tables of "500" were in play, with Mrs. Carl Leisher holding high score. Mrs. Lewis Bowman and Mrs. Kenneth Gurnea were invited guests. Mrs. Russell Eiderly will receive the club members in three weeks at her home on West Park ave.

The Misses Jane and Rachel Baughman, Mrs. Strubel, Elizabeth Franke and Marie Dieffenbach returned Wednesday to their studies at Wooster college after the Easter vacation.

The quarterly meeting of the Lutheran Church council was held Wednesday evening at the church. Mrs. Albert Weber and daughter of Lisbon were guests Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Heston, Duquesne st.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Greenman, Leoben, were Columbiana business callers Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Jervase Crouse has returned to Cleveland after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Nettie Crouse, and family, South Main st.

The Misses Helen Coblenz, Doris Orr and Effie Crawford have returned to Oberlin college after spending their vacation at their homes here.

Mrs. Oscar Calladine, Leoben, was a Columbiana shopper Wednesday afternoon.

A fair-sized audience enjoyed the entertainment Wednesday night at the High school auditorium, given by the DeLuxe Royal Concert entertainers of Youngstown under the auspices of the Columbiana Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

Miss Hazel Roller has returned home from New Wilmington, Pa., where she has been in a sanitarium for several months. Her health is now much improved.

The addition to the plant of the Harold Tool company is now completed, making one uniform unit of their main building and much improving the appearance of the property.

Mrs. W. H. Baughman entertained members of the Harmon Club Wednesday afternoon at her home on North Elm st. A covered dish luncheon at 1 o'clock began the afternoon's enjoyment.

Wayne Hoover, Curtis Dettler, John Benninghoff, Harold Burkle and Miss Mary Lodge have returned to Mt. Union college after the spring vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Burley of Petersburg were Columbiana business callers Wednesday.

Valter Eckhart and family have moved from the Theiss property on South Elm st. to the Brown property on North Main st., formerly occupied by George Case and family.

GREAT OPERA STAR GIVES HOME

"I MAKE this gift to the disabled American veterans of the World War because they called me 'mother.' And it is the duty of a 'mother' to provide her sons with a home." So Mme. Ernestine Schuman-Heink addressed the Minneapolis Chapter of the D. A. V.'s in presenting her $250,000 estate at Grossmont, Cal., to disabled war veterans as a "rest home." Six years ago in Minneapolis the veterans drank a silent toast to two sons the famous singer lost in the war—one on the American side and one on the German.

FACE MURDER CHARGE AFTER OFFICER DIES

Tamburra and another youth, Frank Reman, 25, of Patterson, N. J., became unruly at the ball and Lieutenant Roe attempted to eject them, according to the account of the affair given by police. Tamburra then rushed at the officer, struck him and shoved him down the stairs, they related.

High School Notes

Theda Justice gave a good speech on "Mississippi Flood," today. Close to 800,000 people were driven from their homes and seven states felt the effects of the flood. Scores upon scores of animals were killed. The wide spread death rate made fear of pestilence great, but efficient work prevented such a catastrophe. Now is the time of reconstruction and building up work.

Lawrence Ratchford discussed the work and prominence of women in our everyday world. This is the age when women have stepped out of their background. Woman suffrage started in New Zealand, gradually spread through Europe and finally to America. Women are grasping men's ideas; perhaps too much so. Who can tell?

Mary O'Keefe spoke on "The Philosophy of Happiness." People have ever striven for happiness, some through wealth. But happiness is mental and cannot be satisfied by riches.

Phebe Ellen Parsons gave a good talk on "The Tournament of Roses." This event is held every New Year's day in Pasadena, Calif. It was started in 1890 by the late Charles Helder who wanted to show the beauties of sunny California. Large floats were at first unknown, but gradually larger and more intricate designs were used. Today the floats are masterpieces of human ingenuity, everything being made of flowers.

The theme for this year's pageant was States and Nations in Flowers. A football game between West and East champions generally concludes the festive day.

Thelma Parsons described the burial of the Unknown Soldier of this country. He was laid to rest on Nov. 11, three years after the signing of the armistice. The body remained in state for two days. Now there is a continual guard at the grave because visitors abused their privilege of contact with the grave.

SEASON OPENS TOO EARLY IS WALSH'S VIEW

Rows of Empty Seats Are Mute Evidence Change
Must Be Made

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, April 13.—Proponents of the idea that it is better to see a ball game in your doctored shirt sleeves than feel it in your marrow were armed today with significant evidence that the baseball season is being started neither wisely nor too late.

At least five of the eight inaugurations on Wednesday were made almost unattended from the standpoint of physical comfort because the weather was that of mid-February and yesterday the four scheduled games of the east were allowed to go by default because of rain, chill and, in one instance, snow.

For some years, there has been agitation in certain quarters for a later start in the major leagues, even as an aid to the noble athletes who welter in the south so that they may congeal in the north as quickly as possible and as a boon to populace. These reasons, of course, are stated strictly in the order of their importance.

But whatever the final reason may be, the time will come when baseball will set its calendar back by a matter of ten days or more on its own initiative. It won't do so because it finds it is unnecessarily subjecting its ball players to physical risks. Neither is it likely to take cognizance of the fact that sooner or later some mug will have to be cut out of his overcoat and hung in the steam room until conscious or even sober.

Rows of Empty Seats

Those sort of things are a bit unromantic, but a baseball man doesn't let that bother him. He is highly sympathetic by nature, of course, and just can't help it that his sympathy is something with which he prefers to burden only himself. The sight of an empty seat will cause him to condole with himself by the hour.

I take it, therefore, that he was all but heartbroken on Wednesday. The eight openings played to 198,517 patrons, as we say in the outer office. On a more propitious occasion, they might have numbered as many as 275,000. At the Polo grounds, for example, Rogers Hornsby versus the Giants, grossed 35,000; the attendance on a fair day might have been 55,000. In Philadelphia, they had Ruth, Gehrig, Cobb and Speaker in the same ball game and the turnstiles showed only 20,000 against a possible capacity of 35,000. There must have been a lot of keepers among those 20,000, at that.

In Brooklyn, the attendance was, as on an ordinary Sunday in May, the first 35,000 get in the park and the others pile up in great disorder in the doorway.

These rows of empty seats speak the only language that is intelligible to the magnate. He insists on the early start because he fears the loss of a few patients who, lacking consideration, might go and die on him between April 11 and April 20. He likewise rushes the season because he thinks he might get a break on the weather and can prove that he did, back in 1889.

Schwartz May Sign For Bout In England

New York, April 13.—Corporal Izzy Schwartz, recognized by the New York state boxing commission as flyweight champion of the world, may meet Willie Smith in a 15-round bout in England on June 4.

George McDonald, British fight promoter, has offered Schwartz $10,000 and transportation for the contest.

Schwartz's title would not be at stake because Smith, a South African, is a bantamweight.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Canton—K. O. Christner, Akron, knocked out Rumeo Rojas, Chile (3).

At Jiminy Darrah, Akron, outpointed Jack O'Connell, Cleveland, (7); (ring collapse prevented scheduled eight rounds—semi-final).

At Fort Thomas, Ky.—Gypsy Williams, Toledo, Ohio, bantamweight, awarded newspaper decision over Willie Yap, Indianapolis, (10).

At Wilmington, Del.—Young Ketchell, Chester, Pa., defeated Gene McCrell, Atlantic City, N. J., (8).

At Davenport, Ia.—Red Usan of California knocked out Mike Rozgall of Omaha, (5).

Canton, April 13.—K. O. Christner, heavyweight of Akron, today had chalked up his 31st knockout in 35 fights, as a result of his win over Rumeo Rojas, heavyweight champion of Chile, here last night.

Christner specialized in hard rights to Rojas' jaw, two of which suddenly ended the fight in the third round when Romero went down for the full count.

More than 4,500 fans saw the grad.

Camp Perry, O.—A force of mechanics is at work overhauling approximately 2,800 units of machinery stored here following last season's campaign against the European corn borer. Five storage sheds, each 400 feet long by 96 feet wide, house 993 tractors, 692 plows, 127 light trucks, 90 heavy trucks and more than 350 stubble beaters.

Salem Tracksters Meet Sigma Nu's

Red and Black To Compete In First Meet On Saturday Afternoon On Mount Field
With Star Fraternity Outfit

A track meet has been arranged by Coach Wilbur Springer for Saturday with the Sigma Nu fraternity of Mount Union college. The meet will be held at Mount field at 2 o'clock.

Both proposed meets with Alliance and Struthers fell through, the Alliance coaches being out of the city, while Struthers claimed that they were not ready yet for a regular meet. An attempt was made all day Thursday by Springer to arrange a meet with Massillon, but it too, failed, Massillon also claiming to be unprepared.

The meet with the frat will bring against the locals some of the toughest opposition they will stack up against all season, many of Mount's varsity men being members. A college inter-fraternity meet is scheduled for Wednesday at Mount, and the Sigs were willing for the meet to train for that event. This fraternity has won the college championship for the last 10 consecutive years. Last year, six of the varsity track men were members of the fraternity.

Cope to Run
The meet will bring against the locals one of Salem High's own products, Fred Cope, Mount's star miler and cross country man. Cope is trying hard this year to cut his record for the run under the 4:30 mark, and should walk away with the event in the meet Saturday.

DEAF CHILDREN HURT AS PHOTO STAND BREAKS

Columbus, April 13.—Sixteen children, pupils at the state school for the deaf here, were injured, two of them seriously, Thursday when a platform on which they were standing while a group photograph was taken, collapsed.

The temporary bleachers had been constructed especially for the picture on the lawn adjoining the institution. When the bleachers underneath it gave way, 450 pupils were dropped several feet, in a struggling mass to the ground.

Dora Johnson, 16, of Greenville, suffered two broken ribs and possible internal injuries and Helen Cherry, 12, of Akron, sustained injuries to her legs.

Among those less seriously injured were: Thomas Langried, 16, East Liverpool, bruised hip; Stephen Fundak, Lorain, injured ankle; Mildred Yeager, 14, Mansfield, body bruises; Ione Beighler, 13, Dayton, leg wound, and Ralph Lindweber, 19, Rossford, bruised hip.

ALEXANDER IS STARTING BIG

Experts Will Do Well To Revise Opinions Of
Cards' Hurlers

New York, April 13.—Experts who lighted the St. Louis Cardinals in their calculations of the National League pennant race because the pitcher staff "is a year older" would do well today to revise their estimate as far as Grever Cleveland Alexander is concerned. Officially starting his 18th campaign as a Big League "Old Pete" held the champion Pittsburgh Pirates to seven hits yesterday and blanked them 5 to 0.

The 41-year-old dean of the St. Louis staff has twirled 19 scoreless innings since the Cards started training this year.

Frank Frisch led the attack on Burleigh Grimes, getting a single and his second homer in two days.

The Cardinals are tied for first place with the Cincinnati Reds, who beat the Cubs again. All eastern clubs in both leagues were idle.

The two Chicago teams, which made such brilliant records in exhibition contests, have yet to win a league game. Scoring six runs in the eighth inning when the Cubs made two errors, the Reds swamped the Bums 9 to 3. Purdy, Rooks, Chney, outfielder from the West Coast, scored as but with three hits.

Langford's recent triple in two days enabled Joe Shaute of Cleveland to win a 2 to 1 duel from Alphonse Thomas of the White Sox. The supposedly weak St. Louis Browns scored five runs in the eighth and swamped Detroit, 7 to 2.

"THE NOOSE"

A young boy, just at college age, stands with smoking gun in his hands. His victim is a huddled, shapeless heap on the other side of the room.

This is the dramatic punch that opens "The Noose," First National's picturization of Willard Mack's sensational stage play.

From this tense, startling opening the story moves swiftly through a series of dramatic incidents to the finish. "The Noose" is one of the most powerful stories ever written. It deals with life in the raw, with the underworld and its gunmen and gangsters, with justice and with politics, with sympathy and compassion.

Richard Barthelmess in the stellar role again demonstrates his talents as Nickie Elkins, the boy. He brings to the role, sympathy and understanding.

The audience is taken backstage at a night club, then out into the crowds on the dance floor. Next to the death house in the penitentiary, and then to the governor's mansion.

Through every scene the interest is kept enthralled, and one dramatic climax follows another.

Lina Basquette, former Follies dancer, is cast as Dot, the cabaret girl who remains faithful to the boy through all his trouble. Miss Basquette is not only a dancer of ability, but proves herself a talented dramatic actress as well.

Alice Joyce is cast in the sympathetic role of the governor's wife, who saves the boy from the gallows. Thelma Todd is the society dud who deserts him in hour of need. Montagu Love is the gang leader who meets death at the boy's hands.

AT THE GRAND

Someone has said that youth will be served on the screen as well as elsewhere—but superlative acting ability and lovable personality frequently give age its impetus.

There is the case of Alec B. Francis, never so famous in his long stage and screen career as he is now, grey haired and mellowed by his years, whimsical, kindly and philosophic.

"The Return of Peter Grimm" in particular attracted a great deal of attention to Mr. Francis, and now he is at the Grand in a film production that will add an even more striking role to his record.

The picture is "The Shepherd of the Hills," First National's big dramatic production of Harold Bell Wright's famous novel, in which Mr. Francis plays the title role. Youth is served, of course, in other characters of the picture; two charming romances occupy an important place in the unfolding of the story.

Molly O'Day and John Boles are the romantic leads, and a love affair of rare beauty in the retrospect is enacted by John Westwood and Marion Douglas. Matthew Beta is the villain of the piece.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, April 13—Wisp-like draperies are playing a big role in the return-to-feminine modes this spring.

They are attached to skirts in groups which fall to a point, or flow from armholes and give an angel-wing movement to the shoulders. Little wispy godets of georgette sewn under the armholes are the latest fashion decree for the ball room. They flutter in dainty fashion as the wearers dance and are aided by the dip of the skirt at the back which produces the same effect.

Sometimes the wisps are attached to the wrists, at others they start at the neckline, but in most cases, they "happen" somewhere at the waist or hipline, at the back or sides.

One wispy drapey longer than the others becomes a little train on many of the evening gowns at Jeanne Lanvin's, which are of princely style and give promise of becoming a close rival of her famous "robe de style."

Very often the little train is just long enough to wrap around the throat like a scarf.

A novel handling of wispy drapey is shown in a gypsy girdle which is tied through a ring and leaves a floating panel that can be caught in a curiously-designed silver-clasp, shortening the panel by giving it a graceful looped line.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

The finest of veal is the meat of the milk-fed heifer calf from four to six weeks old. The meat is pink, almost white, tender and very delicate in flavor and the fat is almost white also. The meat is fine grained and juicy. The hind-quarter is the most expensive, divided usually into loin and leg. From the leg the fillet of veal and the veal cutlets are cut. The fillet is roasted, after trussing, or stewed. The fore quarter is the shoulder and breast. The shoulder boned makes an excellent roast, stuffed. The breast is roasted, stewed, made into veal pie or ragout. The neck generally figures in stew, Sweetbreads, liver, and feet are sold for their separate uses. All veal bones are used in making white stock.

Stuffed Veal Chops

With a sharp knife split the chops back to the bone. Make a savory stuffing of a cup and a half of coarse fresh crumbs, soaked for three minutes in milk then drained. Add to the crumbs the yolk of an egg, a quarter pound of mushrooms that have been sautéed in butter then chopped, the juice of an onion and a small grated onion, a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, the same of celery leaves, salt, pepper, a teaspoonful of sugar, and a quarter cupful of finely chopped nuts. Fill the chops with the stuffing and lay them on a buttered baking dish. Lay a slice of bacon on each, dust with pepper and salt, and turn in a half cupful of stock. Bake about an hour, basting often with the dish gravy. Serve with a smooth tomato or a brown sauce.

Veal Cutlet

There are several ways of cooking the cutlet. First we will give the "down east" way. Have a frying pan hot and put into it a lump of butter and when melted lay in the cutlet, cover and steam two or three minutes, then turn and cook gently for five minutes. Turn and cook five minutes more, then uncover

THE TRAGEDY OF MANY LIVES IS CONSTIPATION

Guard against it in time

This evil scourge ruins thousands of promising men and women. It saps vigor. It kills initiative. It wrecks health and happiness. Sleepless nights, dragging feet, headaches, pain-dulled eyes, follow in its wake. Frequently it leads to lasting and serious disease.

Yet there is safe, prompt relief. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. To surely prevent it. ALL-BRAN is 100% bran—100% effective. Doctors recommend it. Two table-spoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

Don't you agree it is better to cure constipation with this healthful cereal than to try dangerous pills and drugs? Or uncertain part-bran products? Delicious with milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Use it in cooking too. Sprinkle it into soups. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

and cook a delicate brown on both sides. Put to a hot plate and turn into the pan a cupful and a half of rich milk after a heaping table-spoonful of flour has been worked into the fat in the pan and cooked a couple of minutes. Stir as the gravy thickens and becomes a pale brown in color. Then strain it over the cutlet, garnish with parsley and serve. The German way is to cut the cutlets into strips two inches wide, dip them into beaten egg and fry in a hot pan with melted butter or other fat. Lay on a hot dish and turn over a smooth well seasoned tomato sauce. Again the cutlet may be cut thinner than for frying and be broiled delicately. When done place on a hot dish, butter well and dust with pepper and salt. Or it may be spread with a savory stuffing and rolled, tied and roasted, served covered with a sauce made of the dish gravy.

Awaiting Outcome Of Rumpus Over Louvain Inscription

Brussels, April 13. — July Fourth this year will mark the end of a great battle for "peace" in Europe. On that day will be inaugurated the Louvain Library, rebuilt by funds from the Carnegie Foundation of America. With the inauguration a bitter conflict over the inscription on the library's cornerstone probably will have been decided.

Belgium is awaiting the outcome of the controversy with intense interest because of the persons involved and because of the question at issue.

"Destroyed by German fury—Restored by American generosity"—these two lines written for the inscription by the late Cardinal Mercier, war hero, have provoked the storm. Do they engender hatred? Will they, graven in marble be the cause of everlasting hostility between Belgium and Germany?

Views Differ
"No," says Whitney Warren, New York architect who planned the new Louvain Library that stands on the site where the old one was burned by German soldiers. "Yes," asserts Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the Louvain Library committee.

"Dr. Butler would substitute the following lines for the inscription: 'Destroyed during the war—Restored in days of peace.'"

Cardinal Gasparri, Papal secretary of state, on a query from Monsigneur Ladeuze, accepted the Butler version, but authorities at the University of Louvain and numerous Catholic dignitaries of Belgium are not in accord with Rome. Monsigneur Ladeuze wrote to Mr. Carol Greenough, member of the American committee to say he personally would admit the revised inscription.

Belgium is naturally grateful for the American work and money which is giving the country an imposing structure to replace the historic library. For this reason the country in no diplomatic sense is being drawn into the controversy waged between the American donors.

But the press is outspoken. Little sympathy is found in Dr. Butler's contention that the carefully nurtured spirit of Locarno would be ruffled. Newspapers believe with Mr. Warren that if Cardinal Mercier were alive today he would refuse to change the original inscription.

Dr. Butler's Effort

Dr. Butler is said to have tried unsuccessfully to sound out diplomatic circles as to the official Belgium attitude in view of the protest his proposed modified text caused. It is pointed out in the press that this attitude would be in favor of Cardinal Mercier because the principle at stake is the same as that in the showing of a film of the life and execution of a British nurse Edith Cavell.

England banned the motion picture as one likely to awaken war hatred, but Belgium, despite representations from Germany, allowed the film to be shown in Brussels where it was acclaimed. Critics said: "Why bury the past. The picture does not excite hate and breed war consciousness. On the contrary, it so graphically depicts the horrors of battle that no one will ever want another war."

Today, the principals in the controversy refuse to yield yet somewhere a concession must be made. There is one man who could settle the dispute with a single word. He is Albert, king of the Belgians but his silence in such matters has always been traditional.

"Ellis Island Sob Stories" by treating his subject in the charming, human way of well told travels that carries with it a gripping interest for youthful as well as adult reader. Outstanding facts are told in such reliable manner that the story of the first electric plant for the production and distribution of electric energy—the Pearl street, New York station—for instance, has called forth an appreciation foreword by Thomas A. Edison of his memories of that historic event on September 4, 1882, in which he says: "Of one thing I am more positive than

I was 40 years ago—the electrical development of America has only well begun."
Many interesting phases of electrical accomplishment in the home, in industry and on the farm are related and a chapter on "Power and National Defense" gives an insight into the importance of industry and electric service as demonstrated by the lessons of the World war.

Construction has commenced in Tokyo of a system of subways which when completed will be fifty miles long.

OCEAN VESSELS IN RADIO CHAIN TO HELP FLIERS

Cunard Officer Has Plan To Pilot Ships Across Sea To Give Aid

London, April 13.—With the object of reducing the casualty list of those who attempt to conquer the Atlantic ocean by air, Lieut. Donald MacMillan, an experienced navigating officer of the Cunard Line, has planned a scheme whereby Atlantic shipping would act as an unbroken chain of organized "radio advisers" to airmen making Atlantic flights.

Lieut. MacMillan's plan is simple in principle and it is believed would be practicable provided the necessary co-operation was forthcoming.

Under a pre-arranged scheme, ships would appoint a "plotting" ship for each 10 degrees of longitude across the ocean when a flight was begun. At each hour (Greenwich mean time) the plane would transmit a call sign. All ships in a position to do so would observe its bearings by directional radio.

Weather Reports

Then they would transmit data, including weather reports, to the plotting—or main ship—in their zone, and the navigator of the plotter would collate the reports and transmit them to the airmen. The plane would thus be guided throughout its journey.

Lieut. MacMillan has approached the biggest navigating and shipping concern here to act as a coordinating body in the organization of his plan. This company is in touch with hundreds of navigators serving in Atlantic vessels.

"Provided the cooperation of all concerned were obtained the scheme could be offered to any airman who asked for it," Captain Coombs, manager of the insurance company, told International News Service. "It is not anticipated that the position will be obtainable at every hour, nor is it certain, owing to technical difficulties, that a plane could receive such information should it be available."

Would Be Useful

"But a great deal of useful work could be done. Correct information on the direction of the prevailing swell, for instance, would enable the airman to verify his course."

"The scheme would cost the shipping companies nothing, and might easily save them thousands of dollars by preventing the deviation of their vessels unnecessarily in the search and rescue work of Atlantic airmen."

"A scheme of cooperation between seamen and airmen will eventually be organized and controlled, I think, by the governments concerned, but private enterprise will be necessary to set it going."

American Artists In Paris Staging Their Annual Show

Paris, April 13.—The exhibition of the "Groupe des Peintres et Sculpteurs Americains" now being held at the Knoedler gallery, in the Place Vendome, was in all respects an American show and illustrates the main currents of American art work, besides indicating the size of the American art colony in the French capital.

This group of artists, which exhibits annually in Paris and America, includes some of the most brilliant members of the American group. All of them have lived in France for some time, yet they remain distinctly American artists and their work shows a certain richness, vitality and variety which could come from no other nation.

Adolphe Dehn is showing some of the most interesting works in the show—dry-brush ink and wash drawings with a definite "Chinese influence. Frederick Frieseke, without whom no American exhibition would be complete, shows the soft methods of his master, Renoir. Oscar Giebrich shows splendid control of hue and tone in three street scenes and a still life. Myron Chester Nutting, who is also well known in French circles shows remarkable virtuosity in four paintings, one of them the Portrait of Madame E. P. K.

Waldo Pierce, of New York

City, gives an almost calligraphic impression of a "corrida" and the portrait of "Halmia" is delightfully pictorial. Eugene Paul Ullman has contributed some pleasant landscapes.

During the summer months the show will go to the United States and will be exhibited in various important American cities. Two or three French artists will also send their work with the group.

tries. Charges of "gross inefficiency, extravagance and probable corruption" have been lodged against the shipping trust with the Commissariat of Works and Peasants' Inspection, the efficiency department of the government.

With an appropriation of $30,000,000 for ship construction last year, it is alleged, the shipping trust built only four vessels. It had promised to build 54 freighters of about 8,000 tons each. This year with a similar appropriation it appears that the trust will be able to construct a maximum of 18 ships. The ordinary freighters built last year, it is charged, were outfitted with luxurious suites for the captains, elaborate mahogany ladies' salons, smoking rooms and guests cabins when there was no necessity for such appointments.

Millions of dollars have been wasted, it is known, but just where the money went to is being made the subject of an investigation. Ship building costs have gone up five times since the war, but allowance was made for that in approp-

Byrd Defends Sensational Flights In His New Book

New York, April 13.—"Sensational flights" are defended by Commander Richard E. Byrd who is now engaged in planning an expedition to the South Pole next fall in a tri-motored monoplane. In his first book, called "Skyward" which has just come off the press, Byrd refers to spectacular flights as "the italics in the story of the progress of aviation."

"Such flights accelerate progress," he writes, "for when the flight is decided upon necessity produces inventions and developments which, in the ordinary course of events, would tend to be slow and uncertain."

Byrd makes it plain in his book that he believes that aviation is only in its infancy. He foresees by 1936 a passenger plane with four or five engines housed in the wings—out of air resistance.

High Exploration
"It is conceivable," he says "that high altitude exploration may soon be combined with high speed flying."

He is of the opinion that 500 miles an hour is in sight. He believes the 100-hour reliable engine is at hand. Byrd justifies spectacular flights as necessary to the progress of aviation and of civilization itself and says that the accidents that occur in such ventures should not be held against the development of commercial aviation.

"Commercial aviation, as I have tried to point out, can today be made safe as a railroad train," Byrd writes. "The pioneer risks his life to bring the unknown into the column of the known. I have always believed that no matter how hazardous an endeavor may be, it is justifiable if the end sought is human knowledge and augmented progress."

Byrd described all of his flying experiences, including his Greenland trips, his flight with Floyd Bennett to the North Pole and his trans-Atlantic hop with Bert Acosta, Lieut. G. O. Noville and Bert Balchen. He reveals for the first time that nearly 10 years ago he began agitating for a trans-Atlantic flight and that at that time he first suggested the flight be made with navy equipment. He says it was largely through efforts made by Walter Camp, with whom he first discussed the project, that high navy officials began consideration of the plans which culminated in the flight of the NC-4.

His Own Plans
In telling of his plans to fly over the South Pole, Byrd cites the difficulties, financial and otherwise, faced in and endeavor of this character.

"Of the toll and the anxiety that now go into the organization of a big expedition the public hears but little," he writes. "Of the anguish the leader must suffer in this preparatory phase none can know who has not been through it."

"It cost Columbus $2,115 to discover America. It cost the world $200,000,000 and hundreds of lives to discover the North Pole. I don't intend to argue that either was worth more or less than it cost, but the overhead of Polar work hasn't gone down since the date of Peary's discovery."

"My North Pole expedition in 1925 was made just about as cheaply as possible. We spent hours and hours trying to get things done economically. Yet it cost in cold cash about $140,000. Nor does this take in a very large sum represented by men and material which were given at cost or donated."

"Our trip to the South Pole will cost above $450,000. As we have to be ready to winter on the Antarctic ice barrier and cover about 24,000 miles in the round trip from New York the cost rises much beyond that of a North Polar trip."

I Cried "Ouch" With Every Move Rheumatism So Bad

BANKS BID ON COUNTY FUNDS

Depository proposals have been received by the county commissioners from eight banks in the county for both active and inactive funds. Four banks entered bids for active funds while six banks entered bids for the inactive funds. In several instances banks entered proposals for both active and inactive funds.

The Peoples State bank of Lisbon was high bidder for the first $50,000 and the second $50,000 of active funds with the first bid of $100,000 and the second $100,000. The First National bank of East Liverpool entered three proposals for the first, second and third $100,000 of active funds, and the Peoples National bank of Wellsville entered four bids for the first, second, third and fourth $50,000 of active funds.

In the case of the Peoples State bank of Lisbon 23 was bid for the first $50,000 of active funds and 18 per cent for the second $50,000 of active funds. The balance was bid at 12 per cent.

Interest bids on balances for inactive funds ranged from 4.75 for the first $75,000, having been submitted by the First National bank of Salem down to 2.25 for the 18th $50,000 offered by the First National bank of East Liverpool. The Community bank of East Liverpool bid 27 on the 16th $75,000.

On the table of the inactive funds the bid ranged from 1.50 to 3.00.

The Peoples State bank of Lisbon will receive the bulk of the business in the active funds, the latter totaling over $100,000.

WINONA

There were 15 ladies present when the Winona W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Lillie Lewton, Wednesday, for an all day meeting. The morning hours were spent in making infant's garments for the Friends' Rescue home, at Columbus.

At the noon hour all enjoyed a covered dish dinner.

The afternoon was taken up with a business session. There was a program in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth Cope, which was in keeping with "Sabbath Observance." Mrs. Cope also had the devotionals.

Mrs. Mayall and Mrs. Cope gave short reports from the county executive meeting held at Salem recently.
